Sowetan-Page 06	PREMIER CELEBRATES HIS BIRTHDAY WITH RURAL KINDS Premier Cassel Mathale celebrated his birthday with children on Saturday in Giyani. Mathale, who was accompanied by his wife Mokgadi, MEC for Public Works George Phadagi, Executive Mayor of Mopani District Municipality Joshua Matlou and Greater Giyani Municipality Mayor Dories Mathebula, turned 49 on January 23. Walking the talk on service delivery, Mathale opened a computer lab and classrooms with the help of Webcom Technologies at the Nkami High School in N'wazekudzeni village and also went to Mbhangezeki High School in Xikukwani village, where he handed out uniforms to pupils. In his address, Mathale said: "The computers will go a long way to increasing computer literacy among the children. This will also empower them with information technology skills. We are taking these computers to children in the rural areas to show that we are serious when we talk about rural development", Mathale said. He said the government was set to improve the broadband system this year so that rural schools and hospitals would have Internet access.
