EDITOR'S NOTE

'Year of Action' beckons

Welcome to the first issue of 2010, the "Year of Action", as President Jacob Zuma called it in his State of the Nation Address on February 11.

Not only will this be the year that South Africa will host the biggest sporting event on earth, the Soccer World Cup; but it will also be the year that will see us as a municipality accelerating service delivery as the President asked of all of us when he said we must work faster, harder and smarter. This is the same message that our Mayor Cllr Doris Mathebula and Speaker Cllr Risimati Mabunda gave us at the end of last year.

I still have to come across a public servant who disagrees with this. This is what we have to do to enhance the quality of life of all the residents of Greater Giyani.

Muyexe, an impoverished area in our jurisdiction that President Zuma chose as the first pilot project of the new administration's Comprehensive Rural Development (CRD) Programme, is a completely different place from what it was when he made the announcement in his first State of the Nation Address in April last year.

More than 230 brick-and-mortar housing units have been built, a satellite police station has been established, Post Office post boxes have been provided and a number of food gardens have been initiated, to mention but a few developmental projects. That's delivery.

The President spoke about the project's achievements in his State of the Nation Address, adding that, based on its successes similar programmes were being implemented in seven sites across the country, benefiting more than 20 wards.

Muyexe has now become a model for development and a beacon of hope.

As you will soon notice, this edition is different from the ones we have produced in the past as far as content is concerned.

The newsletter does not only carry articles that only have a Greater Giyani Municipality bias, as you would expect from a publication of this nature; but it also includes stories of topical events that took place within our borders that we felt you had to be informed about.

Until next time, enjoy your favourite newsletter.

New logo unveiled, hailed

The Greater Giyani Municipality has unveiled a new logo to reflect its new vision.

The logo – designed by a young local graphic artist, John Mabaso – was approved by the council on 18 December 2009 and registered with the Companies and Intellectual Property Registration Office (CIPRO) in Pretoria soon after its adoption.

The gold, green and black logo depicts a rising sun; maize; mopani worm and tree; plough, bowl, clay and soil.

The rising sun signifies the force that gives life and the flight of darkness. It also symbolises a new life, the coming into being of the municipality, a new beginning, hope and light.

The germinating maize indicates growth, and economic and social developmental potential through sound agricultural practices, including subsistence and commercial farming.

The mopani tree, the district's indigenous tree, represents the area's indigenous forestry, while the mopani worm symbolises the fertility of the land, which has provided sustenance to the population for many years. The worm also represents the municipality's local economic activities.

The plough, traditional bowl, clay and soil denote people imbued with love for their heritage and culture, while the plough represents natural strength, diverse cultural value, farming and dancing.

As far as the colours of the logo are concerned, gold stands for natural wealth and indigenous knowledge, green for natural beauty and subsistence and commercial farming, and black for local people.

The municipality's vision seeks to create opportunities for environmental sustainability, tourism and agriculture to thrive to achieve economic growth.

Greater Giyani Mayor Doris Mathebula congratulates artist John Mabaso on designing a "brilliant" logo for the municipality.

Letter to the Editor

Keep up the good work, Mr Editor

The Editor – I recently had the pleasure of reading the Summer Edition of your new-look newsletter, Rito.

I was considerably impressed with the improvements that have been made to the content as well as the look and feel of the publication. Its fresh, modern and stimulating design makes it easier for readers to navigate through the newsletter and digest the content.

The professional way in which the news stories are presented is highly commendable and I would like to pray to God to endow you with the wisdom, creativity, energy and ability to continue to produce such a highly informative communication resource for the residents of Greater Giyani.

I urge the municipality to invest adequate resources in the publication so as to maintain its high standards for the benefit of the residents.

Education summit seeks ways to attain better matric results

Various stakeholders in the Man'ombe Circuit, which falls under the jurisdiction of Mopani District, gathered at Unigaz Hall in Giyani on 4 February 2010 to assess last year's matric results with a view to instituting the necessary interventions going forward.

The stakeholders attending the historic summit included local representatives of the African National Congress (ANC), educators, education officials, parents, traditional leaders, traditional healers, church leaders, businesspeople, labour representatives and officials of both Greater Giyani and Mopani District municipalities.

The meeting heard that with a 60,2% matric pass rate, Man'ombe was the best performing circuit in the whole of Mopani District in 2009.

Also of importance was the fact that this pass rate did not only compare favourably with the national average of 60,7%, but it also showed that the circuit's matric results were far better than the Limpopo provincial pass rate of about 50%.

What was also pleasing about the circuit's performance was the fact that three schools in its jurisdiction received pass rates of more than 80% each. These schools were Giyani High with 87,5%, Nyanisi High (82,2%) and Risinga High (82%). Macema High School came in fourth with an impressive 72% pass.

Of all the 1 147 matric learners who sat for the exams in the circuit, 690 passed.

Participants in the meeting heard that although these results were impressive and commendable, both educators and learners had a duty to guard against being lulled into a false sense of security.

In his presentation, Circuit Manager S Maringa outlined some of the factors that contributed to this relatively remarkable performance. These included the holding of morning and afternoon classes, use of motivational speakers, setting of common objectives at the beginning of the school year and forging of close working relations among school managers.

Maringa said the circuit was clearly not without challenges.

The bunking of classes by both learners and educators, substance abuse, teenage pregnancies and a lack of participation by parents in the education of their children were some of the key issues that needed to be seriously dealt with if matric results were to reach the desired levels.

Local ANC chairperson Risimati Mabunda reiterated that there was "a serious need by schools to have assessment plans if matric results are to significantly improve".

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE 2008/2009 ANNUAL REPORT

Greater Giyani Municipality has adopted its 2008/2009 annual report, which seeks to acknowledge the successes, challenges and interventions within the context of the five-year local government strategic agenda.

- Municipal transformation and organisational development.
- Economic development
- Municipal financial viability and management, government and public participation

2009/2010 MID-YEAR BUDGET ADJUSTMENT

The mid-year budget adjustment is effected in line with the Municipal Finance Management Act (MFMA). Therefore Greater Giyani Municipality has, in line with this Act, adopted the mid-year budget adjustment.

- Increased cash budget based expenditure from R134 million to R149,9 million.

The above increase is as result of the following:-

- Grant from National Electrification Programme (INEP) – R7,2 million.
- R500 000 funding from Telkom Foundation for disaster intervention at Mahlathi village.
- Estimated Municipal Infrastructure Grant (MIG) transfer of R2,7 million for the 2010/2011 in respect of the new national fiscal year overlapping the current municipal financial year as well as revised envisaged owed revenue of R1 million.

No place for laziness in the municipality

The year 2010 will be a year of improved service delivery.

This bold statement was made by the Speaker of Greater Giyani Municipality, Cllr Risimati Mabunda (pictured right), in his welcoming remarks during the municipality's last council meeting of 2009.

Mabunda said councillors who absented themselves from sub-committee meetings, functions and council sittings would be sanctioned and fined in terms of the Municipal Systems Act (MSA).

He warned members to respect protocol and be presentable at all times.

"You must at all times represent the interests of the electorate," he said.

After the meeting, the Mayor, Cllr Doris Mathebula, hosted a year-end party attended by all stakeholders, including employees.
